ART 180, Inc.

(a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statement of financial position as of December 31, 2020 and 2019, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risk of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

ART 180, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements Years Ended December 31, 2020 and 2019

(1) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Nature of Activities

ART 180, Inc. ("ART 180") is a Virginia nonprofit corporation formed in 1998. ART 180's mission is to give young people in the Richmond, Virginia metropolitan area the chance to express themselves through art, and to share their stories with others.

ART 180 creates and provides art-related programs for young people living in challenging circumstances, encouraging personal and community change through self-expression.

ART 180's major classes of programs consist of community-based after-school art programs conducted at various school and other partner organization sites around the area, and Atlas-based art programs conducted at the Atlas Art Center for Teens located in ART 180's premises in the downtown arts and culture district.

(b) Basis of Accounting

The financial statements of ART 180 have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles and, accordingly, reflect all significant receivables, prepaid expenses, payables and other accrued expenses.

(c) Financial Statement Presentation

The financial statement presentation conforms to the requirements of the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") as defined in the FASB Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Topic 958, "Not-for-Profit Entities". Under ASC Topic 958, ART 180 is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets: with donor restrictions and without donor restrictions. These classifications are based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

ART 180 reports gifts as without donor restrictions unless explicit donor stipulations specify how the donated assets must be used. Within the without donor restriction net asset class, the Board of Directors may designate funds for specific purposes (see note 4).

ART 180 reports gifts as donor restricted support if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, donor restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of support, revenue, and expenses as net assets released from restriction.

ART 180 reports its expenses by their functional classification. Certain categories of expenses are attributable to more than one program or supporting function. Therefore, these expenses require allocation on a reasonable basis that is consistently applied. The expenses that are allocated include compensation and benefits, which are allocated on the basis of estimates of time and effort, as well as depreciation and occupancy expenses.

ART 180, INC.

Years Ended December 31, 2020 and 2019

(1) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Program services are the activities that result in goods and services being provided to beneficiaries and community clients that fulfill the mission for which ART 180 exists.

Management and general services include oversight, business management, general recordkeeping, budgeting, financing, and all management and administration except for direct conduct of program services or fund-raising activities.

Fund-raising activities include publicizing and conducting fund-raising campaigns, maintaining donor mailing lists, conducting special fund-raising events, and other activities involved with soliciting contributions.

(d) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

(e) Promises to Give

Promises to give are reported at net realizable value. As of December 31, 2020 and 2019, all outstanding grants receivable are expected to be fully collected within one year, therefore no allowance for doubtful receivables has been established.

(f) Liquidity Management

ART 180 is primarily funded by contributions from donors and many contain restrictions. Those restrictions require that resources be used in a certain manner in a future period. Therefore, ART 180 must maintain adequate resources to meet those responsibilities to its donors and certain financial assets may not be available for general expenditure within one year. As part of its liquidity management, ART 180 has a policy to structure its financial assets to be available as general expenditures, liabilities, and other obligations become due. ART 180 also invests its cash in excess of its daily needs in a money market account. The Board of Directors occasionally designates amounts to its liquidity reserves that could be utilized in the event of an unanticipated liquidity need. ART 180 could also draw upon a $100,000 available line of credit (as discussed in note 3).

Notes to Financial Statements

(1) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

(g) Inventory

Inventory consists of calendars, coloring books, and other art related items held for sale, and is stated at the lower of cost, as determined using the average cost method, and net realizable value.

(h) Property and Equipment

Property and equipment with a useful life of more than one year and an acquisition cost of $5,000 or more are capitalized and are recorded at cost, if purchased, or fair value at the date of donation if contributed. The Organization will expense the full acquisition cost of tangible personal property below the above thresholds in the year of purchase or donation. Assets donated with explicit restrictions regarding their use and contributions of cash that must be used to acquire property and equipment are reported as net assets with donor restrictions. Absent donor stipulations regarding how long those donated assets must be maintained, ART 180 reports expirations of donor restrictions when the donated or acquired assets are placed in service as instructed by the donor. ART 180 reclassifies net assets with donor restrictions to net assets without donor restrictions at that time. Assets donated without explicit restrictions regarding their use are recorded as unrestricted support.

Depreciation is provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of assets of three to thirty-nine years.

(i) In-kind Contributions

Contributed inventory, materials, supplies, and use of facilities are reported as support and expenses in the period received at estimated fair value when determinable.

Unskilled volunteer services neither create nor enhance nonfinancial assets nor do they require specialized skills, and thus are not recognized as support, assets or expense in the financial statements.

Contributions of services that require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing those skills, and would typically need to be purchased if not provided by donation, are recorded as support and expenses at estimated fair value when determinable.

(j) Income Taxes

ART 180 is exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") and Section 58.1-401.5 of the Code of Virginia, except for taxes on unrelated business income as defined under IRC Sections 511 through 515, and is classified by the Internal Revenue Service as an organization that is not a private foundation. There were no unrelated business income for 2020 or 2019; accordingly, no provision for income taxes have been made in the financial statements.

ART 180, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements
Years Ended December 31, 2020 and 2019

ASC Topic 740, "Income Taxes", requires income tax benefits to be recognized for income tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return, only when it is determined that the income tax position will more-likely-than-not be sustained upon examination by taxing authorities. As ART 180 reports on the accrual basis of accounting, any adjustments made by tax authorities are recorded when assessed.

ART 180 has analyzed tax positions taken for filing with the Internal Revenue Service and the Virginia Department of Taxation. ART 180 believes that income tax filing positions will be sustained upon examination and does not anticipate any adjustments that would result in a material adverse effect on ART 180's financial statements.

ART 180's income tax returns are subject to examination by federal and Virginia tax authorities. With few exceptions, ART 180 is no longer subject to U.S. federal tax examinations by tax authorities for years before 2017.

(2) Property and Equipment

(3) Bank Line-of-Credit

ART 180 has a $100,000 unsecured line of credit with a bank (the "Line") which is subject to annual review and renewal on September 9, 2021. There were no borrowings against the Line at December 31, 2020 or 2019. The Line bears interest at the bank's prime lending rate plus 2%.
